Terms and Conditions

There is no restriction to the year that the screenplay was written.

All screenplays should be formatted in accord with industry standards. Screenplays should be printed on white paper and bound with industry standard brads.

Please include a paragraph synopsis. This synopsis should be included with the bound script, after the title page.

No rewritten/corrected pages will be accepted once entry is received.

Screenplay must be in English.

Screenplay must not have been previously optioned, purchased, in production or produced.

Screenplays written as adaptations of other works must have secured rights before being submitted.

If a winning screenplay is the work of more than one writer, the prize will be split evenly amongst the writing team.

Screenplays will not be returned (they will be destroyed after the competition). So please do not send the only copy of your script.

The entrant retains copyright to their screenplay.

The entrant agrees that he or she will never assert against Lovecraft 21C Productions Pty. Ltd. or A Night of Horror International Film Festival any claim or action based on plagiarism, infringement, confidential or fiduciary relationship, implied contract, idea theft, unfair competition or any other theory arising in connection with such submissions, and the entrant understands that Lovecraft 21C Productions accepts no liability of any kind for the unauthorized use of all or part of such submissions by any person. In this regard, the entrant hereby absolutely releases and forever discharges Lovecraft 21C Productions, A Night of Horror International Film Festival and its officers, employees, volunteers, judges, readers, affiliates, and associates, individually and collectively, of or from any and all claims, liabilities, damages, legal fees, expenses, debts, actions, and causes of action against Lovecraft 21C Productions or A Night of Horror International Film Festival of every kind whatsoever, now and in the future, in connection with the entrant's submission.

I have read and agree to the rules, terms and conditions of A Night of Horror International Film Festival.
